2024 IMPACT REPORT

Where hope finds a home.

A Note from the Allens

This journey of ours to have a family has been wrought with so many obstacles. We always knew that if we couldn't have children biologically that adoption was our next endeavor. Cue the Heart Gallery and the amazing ladies that make miracles happen! From day one of our adventure to find our child, they were there to guide, help, coach and cheer us on. The process can be so long and daunting, and having them on our side not only sped things up, it made everything easier. They were there through our tears when our patience was wearing thin, through our laughter when we were so elated we couldn't contain it, and through seeing our dream become a reality on the day our little girl became ours! The Allen Family wouldn't be complete without the overwhelming support we received and still continue to receive months later.
